INTRODUCTION

The Annual Report of Financial Transactions of the Municipalities and Counties of California for the year 1933 covers a term during which decisive changes in the revenue-producing methods have taken place. In addition to combating the difficulties existing throughout the entire nation, many cities and counties have faced disasters which tended to seriously handicap governmental activities. The fiscal year covered herein included the bank holiday, Federal relief intervention, earthquake disasters in the southern section of the State and financial difficulties for individual taxpayers as well as political subdivisions.

There are at present 278 active municipalities in the State of California, including the City and County of San Francisco, and 57 counties. According to the 1930 census, the population of the entire State was 5,677,251. The agencies which estimate population allow a slight increase in this figure for the three years which have followed, but the methods employed are either vague or highly technical, and both are subject to change after computation, which permits considerable doubt as to accuracy. The increased activity in mining, road building, etc., has added to the rural population beyond doubt. Many of the cities have suffered corresponding decreases judging from such tangible evidence as real estate activities and trade volume. The largest county according to the 1930 census was Los Angeles with a population of 2,208,492; the smallest was Alpine with 241 residents. The largest city was Los Angeles with 1,238,048, and the smallest municipality was Hornitos in Mariposa County with a total of 62.

All three governmental units, State, county and city, for the past two successive years show payments in excess of receipts, indicating a very grave financial situation. During 1932-33 the State was able to meet all of its obligations by borrowing $6,000,000 from special funds, 18 counties resorted to registered warrants at some period of the year, and many of the cities were forced to defer payments when due.

FINANCIAL DATA CONCERNING THE STATE

Year	Receipts	Payments	Bonded debt
1928	$141,467,161 55	$129,937,867 78	$114,374,500 00
1929	156,608,515 42	144,988,768 48	121,176,500 00
1930	155,611,327 19	157,096,711 66	122,008,500 00
1931	172,306,275 65	166,211,165 52	131,234,500 00
1932	166,785,662 54	190,982,095 95	142,369,500 00
1933	163,831,439 89	181,207,579 91	140,380,500 00

The steady upward trend of State receipts came to an end in 1931, since which time the receipts have decreased approximately $8,475,000, although payments have increased nearly $15,000,000. In 1932 payments exceeded receipts by some $24,200,000 and in 1933 by $17,375,000. New methods of producing revenue or a drastic curtailment of expenses in the immediate future now become imperative. It is to be noted that the decrease in State payments for 1933 is largely represented by delayed highway construction due to uncertainty of legislative action, and as a result the apparent substantial decrease of total expenditures for the year 1933 will be largely offset for 1934 as the revenues accruing to the Highway Department will be absorbed by an accelerated highway program. The actual decrease of expenditures from the general fund which is of concern to the taxpayers was nominal.

At a special election on June 27, 1933, the voters of California approved Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 30, which will increase future State expenditures to the extent of the amount heretofore produced by the general county tax levies for schools and high schools.

Although the bonded debt total has decreased $1,989,000 in the past year, additional State bonds were sold totaling $1,390,000 as follows: California State Park bonds $1,140,000 and Harbor bonds $250,000.

1933	308,877,022 29	311,921,263 41	284,285,113 00

* Excluding City and County of San Francisco.

While the county totals for receipts, expenditures and bonded debt continued to increase until 1930 and 1931, those totals for 1933 are less than the corresponding ones for 1928. In the past five years receipts have decreased $22,717,000 and payments have decreased $19,670,000. Payments for the current year are greater than the receipts, but a comparison with like totals for the prior year shows a decisive drop in both during 1932-33.

County totals include the receipt of $10,914,142.33 under subventions and grants which represents Federal moneys for unemployment aid. For distribution of this money see Table XXI. The payments show a similar increase under charities and corrections. Deductions in future allocations from the Federal government to the State for highway purposes will be made in order to repay these loans to the extent of $9,600,259 which was allowed under the Emergency Relief and Construction Act. The remainder represents a gift as provided in the Federal Emergency Relief Act.

In 1929 the amount paid by the counties for indigents not confined in institutions was about $4,000,000. The Legislature that year enacted the so-called "Old Age Pension Act," which in its first year of operation increased this total $1,400,000. The present figure is $26,500,000, a part of this tremendous sum being supplied by the Federal relief money above mentioned. In addition to the aged indigent, the counties have paid within the past year over $10,000,000 for the maintenance of almshouses and county hospitals, $2,500,000 for orphan support and $1,215,000 for correctional schools and homes for the feeble-minded.

An act of the 1929 Legislature levied a tax of .001 on solvent credits and .002 on stocks and bonds. The totals for these intangibles should therefore be considered apart from property subject to the general tax levies. Assessed valuations of the State (exclusive of San Francisco) since this law became effective are as follows:

Year	Real estate, improvements and personal property	Solvent credits, stocks and bonds
1929	$6,229,271,557 00	$1,129,558,460 00
1930	6,173,935,262 00	1,333,108,355 00
1931	6,029,754,852 00	796,494,520 00
1932	5,250,228,546 00	860,483,596 00
1933	4,632,221,029 00	755,391,308 00

During the four years above shown, the general taxable property of the counties decreased 25.64 per cent, while intangibles decreased 33.12 per cent.

The ratio of bonded indebtedness to assessed values, exclusive of State bond issues, has materially changed since 1929. Assessed values for that year, including the City and County of San Francisco, were in excess of $7,000,000,000, with a total bonded indebtedness of $660,230,000. Assessed values for the year 1933, including San Francisco, were $5,380,000,000, with a bonded indebtedness of $735,000,000, assuming that the decrease in assessment represents a sound decline in values, the ratio of property in assessment represents a sound decline in values, the ratio of property to liability as represented by outstanding bonds has decreased in a very substantial fashion, there being $7.14 of property as security behind each dollar of outstanding bonds as of this date, while in 1929 there was $10 worth of property as security for one dollar of bonds outstanding. This substantial increase in liability is of the utmost importance, for it constitutes a fixed charge that can not be altered other than by repudiation. The State bond issues were excluded in the above discussion for the reason that they have been secured hitherto by the property of utilities.

The total bonded indebtedness of all political subdivisions totals $79,550,404 for the year 1933. This does not include irrigation and other similar public issues.

Attention is directed to Table XXXIV covering the general tax levy for the year 1933-34. This statement gives an estimate of the net amount saved the counties through the transfer of school costs from the general county tax burden to the State. For 1932-33 the total county levy was $132,778,463.75. The current total is $86,740,042.0, a decrease of $46,037,759.55. This is an excellent showing, as the actual transfer of school costs to the State approximated $39,000,000, indicating an additional reduction in the local county cost of government of $7,000,000.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 30 also restores public utility property to the local tax rolls on January 1, 1935, thus adding at least $1,250,000,000 to the present property value used in fixing local tax rates. This same amendment also limits the increase of expenditures of counties, cities and school districts for purposes other than bond interest and redemption to an amount not exceeding 5 per cent of the amount actually spent in the preceding year, which will prove a most valuable measure in restraining undue expansion of governmental agencies.

Although the outstanding bonded debt of counties as of June 30, 1933, is less than at any time since 1928, additional bonds have been sold in the sum of $7,885,500. Los Angeles County alone reports the sale of $5,311,000, while Alameda County sold relief bonds in the sum of $1,517,000.

FINANCIAL DATA CONCERNING MUNICIPALITIES

1928	$5,014,997.774	$232,197,582 65	$229,737,877 80	$347,413,378 00

1933	4,693,589.727	204,738,627 10	218,006,639 84	450,884,790 70

 Including City and County of San Francisco.

In the past two years a deduction is shown for each of the above city classifications except the bonded debt which has never failed to climb although this year at a lesser pace than heretofore. In 1932-33 new bonds were floated by the municipalities in the total sum of $13,462,500, some of the larger issues being as follows:

San Francisco, relief	$1,320,000 00
Los Angeles, water	3,400,000 00
Pasadena, water	2,976,000 00
Santa Monica, breakwater	690,000 00
Stockton, municipal improvements	572,000 00
San Diego, water	383,000 00
Vernon, light and power	250,000 00

No doubt all of the above projects were essential, and certainly the taxpayers placed approval on each and every issue, yet it is unfortunate in view of large tax delinquencies that additional burdens should be assumed. In the past five years the total bonds outstanding have increased $103,500,000, while receipts have decreased in the sum of $27,500,000 and payments have decreased only $11,730,000.

The result of the depression is quite apparent in considering the totals since the peak amounts were reached in 1930. City receipts for the three years which followed decreased 30.97 per cent, payments 24.54 per cent, and the total bonded debt which had been climbing rapidly before that time, increased only 9 per cent.

Table Number XIV, covering the financial operations of publicly owned utilities, indicates that the railroads of Eureka and San Francisco again show an operative loss.

Proper accounting would be most helpful in determining the financial status of city-operated water projects. Many of the municipalities meet the utility bond interest and redemption from the general tax levy and fail to set this up as a charge against revenue. Such procedure fails to reflect the total cost of the water supply, thereby establishing an apparent surplus when in fact there is an operating deficit. The method of reporting makes it difficult to determine the status of outlays, and as the item appears to be substantially the same year by year, it is included as a current expenditure in the following table:

MUNICIPALLY OWNED WATER PLANTS

Payments for operation	$10,947,931 53
Bond interest and redemption payments	12,001,145 80
Payments for outlays	17,759,446 36
Deposits refunded	313,491 86
Receipts from operation	$27,708,762 50
Receipts from bond sales	6,964,548 52
Receipts from deposits	333,780 78

$11,022,015 55

35,007,691 80

$6,014,923 75

Reports filed with the Controller show 161 municipalities operating water plants. Nine are free from bonded debt, two of this number having distributing systems only.
