INTRODUCTION

Chapter 550, Statutes of 1911, requires all municipalities and all counties of the State to file with the Controller, annually, a report of their financial transactions for the preceding fiscal year. The data herein contained has been compiled from the reports of 285 municipalities and 57 counties, the City and County of San Francisco being included in the tabulations of municipalities only. As of June 30, 1945, the actual number of incorporated cities in California was 286, which figure includes the town of Hornitos in Mariposa County, but which does not function as a municipality and does not report to the State Controller.

California population continues on the up-trend, according to official and semi-official estimates as of June 30, 1945. There is, however, a marked decrease in the rapidity of growth in the 12-month period from June 30, 1944, to June 30, 1945, below the growth of the previous 12-month period.

An interesting factor in connection with population figures is the slight tendency toward a leveling off as between the urban and rural estimates. In the two-year period from June 30, 1943, to June 30, 1945, the rural population was increased by 325,320 persons according to the estimates. This increase can be attributed to a combination of two causes, namely, the conclusion of the shooting war and reduction of personnel in war industry and return of some of that personnel to rural communities and farms, and also to the fact that housing facilities in urban areas have reached saturation, forcing many persons into rural districts who might otherwise remain in the cities were housing available there. Population estimates between Federal Census counts are difficult and none too accurate under normal conditions, and obviously war conditions, which create instability of population, increase the difficulties and inaccuracies of estimates. However, in Table II, the city estimates are in many instances the result of a special census count, made possible through Federal and State legislation for purposes of more equitable distribution of State funds to governmental agencies.

The following tabulation gives the most recent information according to estimates furnished by county auditors and city clerks:

	1940 census	1945 estimates	Increase	Per cent increase
Urban population	5,020,691	6,487,760	1,467,069	29.22
Rural population	1,886,696	2,044,104	157,408	8.34
Total	6,907,387	8,531,864	1,624,477	23.52

Property valuations still maintain their upward trend, the counties showing an increase in 1945 over 1944 of $270,878,441, while the cities show an increase for the same period of $212,591,771.

County budget procedure, under the Controller's program, has been greatly simplified by the adoption of new and streamlined forms, developed through cooperative effort of the County Auditors' Association and County Supervisors' Association and after one year of use have proved their value through a more uniform procedure than heretofore. Budget procedure in the counties was further clarified during 1945 by a complete revamping of Section 3714 of the Political Code, wherein by legislative enactment the County Budget Act was codified, clarified and many of its ambiguities eliminated, in keeping with modern conditions.

Through action of the 1945 Legislature, regional conferences of county auditors, county tax collectors and redemption officers have been made possible at the call of the State Controller. The first of these conferences, held in various parts of the State late in 1945, have served to better inform the county officials mentioned in the many ramifications of their official duties.

No changes have as yet been inaugurated in the method of reporting financial transactions of counties and municipalities as further study of that problem is both necessary and advisable before a radical departure from present methods can be successfully consummated. The following totals for State, county and city governments from 1940 to date are provided for purposes of comparison, together with brief explanation of increases or decreases of the totals shown for 1945 against the previous year, and to show the trend of government financing in California:

STATE

Year	Receipts	Payments	Bonded debt
1940	$621,411,652.07	$646,112,400.96	$173,715,500.00

1945	920,576,569.32	975,330,457.07	116,169,500.00

State receipts shown above represent gross deposits into the State treasury from all sources and funds, including both revenue and non-revenue receipts. State payments represent gross warrant disbursements from all funds, including expenditures for governmental costs and non-governmental cost disbursements.

* Excluding City and County of San Francisco.

The increase in county receipts and payments reflect the general need for additional income with which to meet increased payments. The total increase in receipts since 1944 was $59,818,154.78. Receipts from all sources except interest and property rentals increased. Property tax collections accounted for $19,520,983.31 and trust funds $19,961,195.54. Trust funds include receipts from investment bonds cashed, salary withholds for income and retirement purposes, court and bail deposits and other funds held in trust.

County payments in the past year increased $51,298,563 and included all classifications except interest and redemption of debt payments and moneys spent from the proceeds of debt obligations. Largest payment increases were for education $18,811,218.31 and trust accounts $13,387,189.47.

The bonded debt again shows a reduction as it has each year since 1936 when the total debt was $304,666,350. The deduction in the past nine years amounts to $123,222,260, or 40%.

 Including City and County of San Francisco.

In the past year city receipts have increased $98,749,580 and payments $70,938,474. Trust receipts accounted for $67,579,476.80 of this increase and trust payments for $70,267,857.94. City receipts in 1945 exceeded payments by $23,875,840.42. In reviewing these totals and increases, Los Angeles City report records a transaction vitally concerning the above figures. During 1945 this city issued and sold electric plant revenue refunding bonds in the sum of $42,650,000 and called $11,304,000, leaving an unexpended balance of 31,346,000 to be used at a later date.
